

THE CONSORTIUM ON RACE, GENDER & ETHNICITY & THE MARYLAND POPULATION RESEARCH CENTER present

Q Qualitative
R Research
I Interest
G Group

QRIG FALL 2010 SPEAKER SERIES

VACCINE DECISIONS:

Individualism, Altruism, and the Meaning of Parents' Rights

DR. JENNIFER A. REICH

Department of Sociology and Criminology
University of Denver

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18th, 2010

10am-12pm | MPRC Conference Room | 0124B COLE FIELD HOUSE

The Qualitative Research Interest Group (QRIG) is a working group of faculty and graduate students who use qualitative methods in their work. Central to the work of this group is a focus on intersectional dimensions of inequality and their relation to social justice and raising the profile of qualitative methodologies at the University of Maryland as a core component of a research design.

Questions? Contact Beth at bdc1@umd.edu or go to www.cрге.umd.edu.